General Rules and Regulations

- It is our sincere request to the parents that they should not disturb the teachers by entering through the side doors in the auditorium. It is not possible for the teachers to hand over any child between the programmes as it disturbs the teachers and the children.
- All the children will be handed over to the parents after the complete programme of that section gets over. Parents should strictly follow the announcements made by the teacher after the complete programme gets over. Parents should come in a queue to pick up their children to avoid further chaos and co-operate with the volunteers.
